TRANSPARENCY AND TRUST

At Trainar, Semirremolques we understand that in many cases a used semi-trailer can be the best option in terms of availability and budget. However, the used equipment market is often full of offers where the real condition of the equipment remains uncertain.

With many years of experience in the industry, we have seen how customers too often discover hidden problems only after the purchase: cracked chassis, welds concealing wear, or poor-quality repairs.

That is why Trainar works differently. All our used equipment is thoroughly inspected, with special attention given to key components such as the extension system, steering, hydraulic suspension, and lubrication systems. This allows us to determine whether immediate repairs are required or whether the buyer can plan future maintenance decisions.

Our commitment is complete transparency. Every customer receives a detailed inspection report and, if desired, can personally inspect the equipment at our workshop.

- Modifications resulting from the installation of additional equipment after registration.
- And more.

“ Making your journey easier.

TRAINING & USE

When delivering a new or used semi-trailer, we recommend that both the driver and the company's maintenance manager are present.

Understanding how the equipment operates is essential, especially because many incidents occur on the road or at the unloading site, where the driver is often alone. Proper training allows drivers to solve situations more quickly and safely during transport operations.

The presence of maintenance staff also helps them better understand the equipment and establish an effective preventive maintenance plan.

When both the driver and the workshop team are familiar with the semi-trailer, problems can be resolved faster and many breakdowns can be prevented.

“ Know the what, how, and why of your trailer.
